In this class students will create an absolutely gorgeous 12" x 12" acrylic album which will be just in time for making lots more as gift giving for the holiday season. The album includes working with beeswax, napkins, rubber stamps and a host of other "things" to create pieces that will be included in the completed album. This class is going to knock your socks off. It begins with a full morning of working with wax and creating the inserts which will be used in the assembly process later in the day. Lunch is included to help round out the entire day.

If you own a craft iron and are willing to bring it to class for your personal use, it would be extremely helpful. At the time of registration, please let us know. This class is NOT for the timid or the beginner. Students will need to work quickly and independently during parts of the workshop. Both Don and Maria will be on hand for the full day of the workshop and handouts will also be provided, however, knowledge in advanced stamping skills and basic knowledge of the "how tos" is a good starting basis for whether or not this class is for you.
